Building Bridges of Faith: The Impact of the South Jefferson Ecumenical Council in the Community

Are you aware of the incredible work of the South Jefferson Ecumenical Council? They're a non-profit organization made up of passionate churchgoers and clergy from the South Jefferson area. Their main goal? To bring churches together in Christian fellowship and lend a helping hand to the spiritual well-being and needs of the South Jefferson community.

Any church in the area that's on board with its mission can join the Council. And get this, each church gets to send one clergy and two lay representatives as voting delegates. Talk about teamwork!

Now, let's meet the current officers of the Council. We've got President Barb Greene, Vice President Dawn Fargo, Treasurer Linda Strader, and Secretary Rev. Kevin Kitto. These folks are just part of the driving force, its many members contribute to the Council's success.

Alright, let's dive into the exciting events and initiatives the South Jefferson Ecumenical Council puts on throughout the year. Brace yourself!

First up, we've got the SJEC Good Friday Service. Picture this: it takes place at the beautiful Emmanuel Episcopal Church every year from noon to 3:00 PM on Good Friday. The community gathers for a time of deep reflection and worship, focusing on the "Last Seven Phrases of Jesus." It's a powerful experience that leaves a lasting impact.

Next, let's pedal our way into the Spring Bike-a-thon. This event is a blast! It brings the community together and helps raise funds for the Rohde Center. People hop on their bikes and ride along a designated route, after collecting sponsorships. It's a win-win for getting active and supporting a local cause.

Summertime means it's time for the Galilean Service. This spirit-filled worship experience happens at St. Luke's in Henderson Harbor, right on the shores of Lake Ontario. Can you imagine the serene atmosphere? The community comes together to celebrate their faith and enjoy some quality fellowship. It's a beautiful sight.

But wait, there's more! The South Jefferson Ecumenical Council also gets involved in the Cheese Festival. They lend a hand to the Child Evangelism Fellowship (CEF) Children's Outreach and have information available to spread the word about their amazing work in the community. Talk about making an impact!

Let's not forget about the little ones. During the summer, the Council hosts a super fun Vacation Bible School. Kids get to learn and grow in their faith in a vibrant and engaging environment. And guess what? The Council also throws a Membership Picnic, where all their members come together for some good old-fashioned bonding.

As the leaves start falling, it's time for the Walk/Run for the Rhode Center. This event gets the community moving and grooving while supporting a local organization. Plus, there's the Harvest Luncheon, a time to give thanks and celebrate the bountiful harvest. It's all about gratitude and good times. The Council's Thanksgiving Service in the fall is another opportunity for the community to come together in worship and Thanksgiving. This service includes a fabulous Community Choir of singers from the member churches.

And of course, the South Jefferson Ecumenical Council knows how to spread the holiday cheer. During the Christmas season, they participate in the Angel Tree Project, making sure those in need receive gifts and support. And they don't stop there! They also participate in the Community Christmas Party/Parade, bringing joy and laughter to the whole community.

With their unwavering dedication, the South Jefferson Ecumenical Council weaves a beautiful tapestry of unity, fellowship, and community engagement. They're making a real difference in the South Jefferson area, and it's truly inspiring.

Update from the Six Town Chamber of Commerce...

The SixTown Chamber is proud to Sponsor this edition of Snapshots as we love to promote our beautiful area and every business in it. If you're not a member of the chamber, you should be. We will do our best to promote your business and will share your advertisements and promotions on our social media pages. Social media advertising really works, you just need to share your media with the chamber and we will share it with all our members and our followers.

The chamber has been very busy organizing 3 Business After Hours this summer. Business After Hours is a great way to network with our other businesses in a casual environment, it's fun and free to attend. If you haven't been to one you should come.

Other upcoming events are the Annual Awards dinner, the Halloween Festival, Shop Local, and our Christmas Parade. Please consider joining in on the fun and participating in these events, most of which are free. If you know of any HS Seniors in the SJ or BH districts, the scholarship applications are due on May 1, 2024.

Check out the chamber on our website: SixTownChamber.org, Facebook and Instagram.

Please remember to Shop Local whenever you can!
